Enhanced Sales Planning

Now Integrated with Real-Time Raw Material Monitoring

We're excited to introduce a powerful new enhancement to ADAMS Sales Planning: full integration with raw material monitoring for smarter, more accurate planning across your operations.

Now, you can easily import inventory data from third-party warehouses and monitor all stock levels across multiple locations in one centralised platform. With real-time visibility into both raw materials and finished goods, production teams can instantly auto-check material sufficiency before confirming production, significantly reducing delays and missed deadlines.

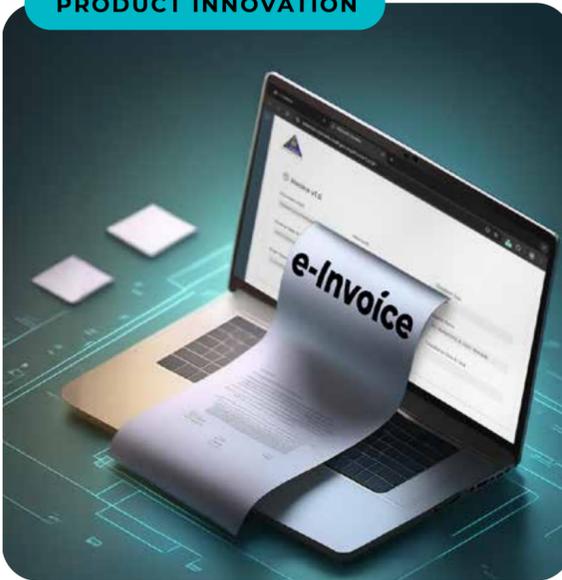

This enhancement bridges the gap between Sales, Procurement, and Production teams, ensuring your forecasts are aligned with actual inventory and capacity, and that orders are fulfilled on time, every time.

Whether you're aiming to avoid stockouts, prevent overproduction, or streamline procurement, our enhanced Sales Planning module simplifies the entire process, so your team can plan with confidence and precision. > Learn more
